

High Hand of the Day

The High Hand of the Day will be available to players participating in live, raked Texas Hold'em games. The minimum qualifying hand must be a Full House or better.

For a hand to qualify, only one of the player's two hole cards must be used to form the final qualifying hand. Hands that are made entirely from community cards (playing board) will not qualify for the High Hand promotion.

The pot for any qualifying hand must contain a minimum of $15, inclusive of rake and any house collections. Hands that do not meet this minimum pot requirement will not be eligible for consideration, regardless of hand strength. Only hands played during traditional poker play are eligible. Bomb pots and all other promotional hands do not qualify.

The player with the highest qualifying hand during the period will receive the posted payout amount. In the event of a tie, where multiple players hold the same qualifying High Hand, the posted prize amount will be split evenly among all eligible players holding the tied hand.
